Building a Healthy Environment For Indiana Children

What makes a healthy home, daycare or school? What keeps a child from being lead poisoned or having an asthma attack? It is an environment that is lead-safe, dry, clean and pest-free. An environment where the child can thrive and learn.

Every Hoosier child needs and deserves a healthy home, school and daycare. But too often families have to compromise a environmentally safe home or daycare for one that is affordable. Too often the school environment puts them at risk of an asthma attack, and if they are worried about breathing, they are not learning!

Come join us and discover how we can make the places our children live, learn and play healthy and affordable. Attend the Indiana Lead-Safe and Healthy Homes Conference on October 29 and 30 in Indianapolis.
